GALÁPAGOS ABOARD NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC ENDEAVOUR II

Departs: 28 November 2025 | 10 Days

Quito or Guayaquil, Ecuador to Quito or Guayaquil, Ecuador

Few destinations are more iconic than the Galápagos Islands, where Lindblad Expeditions brought the very first group of citizen explorers more than 50 years ago.

Sail among the varied landscapes of this magical archipelago to encounter giant tortoises, blue-footed boobies, playful penguins, and charismatic sea lions, all unfazed by your presence. With multiple ways to explore on land and at sea, including hikes, photo walks, kayaking, paddleboarding, and snorkelling, all included in your expedition - every day reveals new discoveries interpreted by a team of expert local guides.

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC ENDEAVOUR II

CAPACITY: 96 Guests in 52 cabins.

REGISTRY: Ecuador OVERALL LENGTH: 236 feet

Our latest and most family-friendly ship, the National Geographic Endeavour II is exceptionally nimble and maneuverable.

Born in the cool waters of Patagonia, National Geographic Endeavour II was built for heavy seas. Now, permanently stationed in Galápagos, she comfortably sails the Equator. National Geographic Endeavour II has an expansive open-air observation deck and state-of-the-art tools for exploration including a glass-bottom boat, underwater cameras, video microscope, plus kayaks and stand-up paddleboards.
